SHAKE YOURSELF

Feeling that your chances will be better tomorrow and what have you done? You have discounted today and tomorrow you will probably do the same thing.

Decide to slow down today—and tomorrow this inertia of indifference will get a firmer hold on you. Putting off a purpose to do a thing, slowing down today with the hope of making up tomorrow, is tacit acknowledgment that you lack the decision necessary in success.

When you feel physically sluggish, mentally indifferent, shake yourself. Never let an associate see you lagging. Your services have an influence over others. Stop and you stick. Keep on keeping on.

Girls' Gingham Dresses

Formerly Selling at $4.95; Save a Dollar Tomorrow, at $3.95

Summer time is Gingham time for girls—and there's a reason why. No matter if gingham dresses do get tubbed every week the entire summer long, when fall comes they still insist that they are fresh and pretty.

This is the time to get a new supply, for these are the better kinds of gingham dresses, in plain colors, or striking plaids and stripes; some with smocked yokes, surplice and belt effect; some have sashes, others belts, collars and cuffs of white rep or contrasting colors. Sizes 6 to 14 years.
